

Don and his wife Susan have three children.

Don has been on so many committees, that it would fill a book. He was a selectman 1977-1980, is presently chair of the Historical Preservation Commission, and of the Community Preservation Committee. As chair of the Bedford Historical Society he hired a professional archivist, and formed a financial committee to handle investments. He is a member of the Friends of the Job Lane House, the Bedford Depot Park, and on the Wilson Mill Site Advisory Committee.

Don as a member of the Bedford Historical Preservation Commission, almost single-handedly saved the Old Town Hall, by obtaining state matching funds to stabilize and restore the building. He engaged a consultant to complete the Survey of Bedford's Historical Properties and this was later published by the Bedford Historical Society.

Beyond these accomplishments, at home he has an ancient pony, free-range chickens, and schipperke dogs his wife raises. He escapes to their cottage in Scituate or to northern Wisconsin to a log cabin own built by their grandfather on the Tomahawk River that he and his sisters and a streetcar from Wisconsin's early electric trolley days.

Don has a great sense of humor and loves to bake Strawberry-Rhubarb Pies!
